

Watercolour Still Life Saturday 24th November 10am-3.30pm £40

Following on from or as a starting point in its own right we are including watercolour still life sessions in our programme. Working from well lit and interesting set ups you will learn how to start and / or improve your watercolour painting. Set ups will be different for each session, thus changing the challenges that they will give you. For the more experienced artists you will be able to work on your own style of painting with my guidance should you need it. Bring your watercolour paints and Saunders Waterford 140 lb Not watercolour paper (ideally stretched).Beginners welcome.

"Brusho" Half Day Monday 10th December 2-5pm £22

"Brusho", this is new and exciting and we invite you to come and experiment with its many and varied possibilities. What is it? Well it is an ink but in a granular form which means that you can make up washes and paint with it as with watercolour but also you can sprinkle it onto wet paper or add it into washes or onto dried washes so creating something very different. Demonstrations given. Your references or ours. Beginners welcome. Bring your Brusho colours and your normal watercolour painting kit. Any subject of your choice. References supplied. Beginners welcome.
